

Lindbergh Visited Cuttyhunk Seeking For Mystery Yacht

Five Planes to Find Yacht "Sallie"—
Major Schofield of Jersey Police to Quit Mother of Betty Goss.

Cuttyhunk, Mass., April 4 (AP).—Two Cuttyhunk fishermen today positively identified the pilot of a large amphibian plane which landed here yesterday in search of a yacht as Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh. One of the men, Charles Tilton, said he had seen many pictures of Lindbergh and recognized him without question. Cuttyhunk residents said the plane contained four men, and that they were looking for a 28 foot yacht named Sallie. The yacht was described as having two men and two women aboard. The men did not make known their identity but the two fishermen said they were positive the pilot was Lindbergh.

Sought Yacht.
Excitement reigned in the village as the rumor spread that the men were seeking a conference with the kidnappers of Lindbergh's little son. The four men remained on the island several hours, lunched at a small inn, and asked numerous questions relating to the yacht which, residents said, they apparently expected to find at the island.

After the party departed they flew northward and were seen by Captain E. H. Paul of the Coast Guard station to fly lower near Penikese Island near which a yacht was anchored. It appeared to the Coast-guardmen as though the men in the plane were endeavoring either to identify the yacht or to drop a message.

To Question Mrs. Taylor.
Glasgow, Scotland, April 4 (AP).—It was officially reported here that Major Charles H. Schofield of the New Jersey state police will arrive tonight from London. It was understood that he was coming to interview the mother of the Lindbergh nurse, Betty Goss.

There was a feeling among police authorities here that "something of considerable importance" may be the outgrowth of Major Schofield's visit.
The city is excited about it and the question is even being asked on the street "Is the Lindbergh baby in Glasgow?" The police have even gone so far as to institute a search for the child.
Mrs. Taylor, the mother, maintains reticence, however. When informed that the New Jersey officer would arrive tonight she merely smiled and said:
"I have nothing to say at the moment."
It was stated officially, however, that Major Schofield had bound Mrs. Taylor to secrecy, indicating that his visit had been planned in advance.

Split Delegates In Wisconsin

Milwaukee, Wis., April 4 (AP).—Aroused by a heated campaign intended to determine state leadership in factions of the two major parties, Wisconsin goes to the polls tomorrow to elect delegates to the National Republican and Democratic conventions.

The Republicans were divided. One group, the conservatives, was officially uninstructed as to a choice of a candidate for the presidency, but has given "tacit approval" to the Hoover administration. The Republican progressives were LaFollette-steered and pledged for the nomination to Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska.
Democrats were split, one group favoring the candidacy of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt and another officially unpledged but known to approve the selection of former Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York as the party's standard-bearer.
In the conservative-progressive fight, the former have termed progressive "Anti-Republicans" and sought to make the issue a repudiation of Gov. Philip F. LaFollette.
The governor was not up for election as a delegate on the progressive state but his brother, Senator Robert LaFollette, and Senator John Blaine were candidates.

New York Primaries Planned This Week

Albany, N. Y., April 4 (AP).—New York names its delegates to the Democratic and Republican national conventions this week but with the exception of a local Democratic fight in one corner of the state no one would know that Tuesday is Primary Day.
In only one district, the 41st (Buffalo), are there rival states of delegates. One two-some is awarded for former Governor Smith for the Presidential nomination while the other pair openly is favoring uninstruction they are said to be friendly to Governor Roosevelt's candidacy for the nomination. The Republicans do not have a contest for the convention delegation, which will be favorable to President Hoover. New York will have 97 votes in the G. O. P. convention.

No. 1 P. T. A. Meeting.
The Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 1 will hold its regular meeting at the school on Wednesday instead of Tuesday.

Her husband, a lawyer, and brother of the noted New York pastor, was not at home and was believed to be in New York.

The two children were Susanne, 15, and Blaine, 9.

Two Dead, Result of Mexican Election

Mexico City, April 4 (AP).—Mexico's first nationwide primary election, held like an old-fashioned spelling bee, passed into history today with two dead and more than two score injured as its toll.

At the stroke of noon, under the eyes of 60,000 regular army troops, the voters lined up on the streets in 3,000 voting districts throughout the country, and were counted off by officials. It was all over in an hour and the counting boards made their tallies and announced the winners shortly afterward.

Serious violence occurred only in three places. One man was killed and six wounded at Villa Juarez, Tamaulipas State, when supporters of one gubernatorial candidate loaded several buses with stones and attacked the partisans of another.

In this contest, just across the Texas border, Emilio Portes Gil, former provisional president of Mexico, was defeated by Dr. Rafael Villarreal, native of the little fishing hamlet of Soto La Marina, 120 miles south of Brownsville. Senor Portes Gil recently returned from Paris, where he was Mexican ambassador, to become a candidate for governor.
The other death occurred in a fight at Pueblo. Twenty-one were injured there and as many more in the federal district, in which Mexico City is located.

Most of the battles yesterday were fought with stones, which replaced the pistol used in previous elections.

Fire Damaged Sable's House

Two Family Residence of Louis Sable on Broadway at Corner of Staples Street Scene of Early Morning Fire—Mrs. Davis Lost $25 in Bills.

Fire, that is thought to have started near the chimney in the attic of the two-family residence of Louis Sable, the furrier, at 337 Broadway, corner of Staples street, badly damaged the interior of the attic and burned a hole through the roof near the chimney. The fire was discovered shortly before 9 o'clock this morning and an alarm was turned in from Box 53, Broadway and East Chester street.

When the firemen reached the scene they found that there was considerable smoke and fire in the attic of the house, which is a two-story frame structure. Ladders were stretched against the side of the house and the firemen entered the attic and played a stream of water on the flame.

Before the water was turned on, however, the firemen placed canvas covers over the furniture in the house, saving the furniture from much damage by water.

Mr. Sable has his furrier shop on the first floor and resides on the second floor. On the first floor in the rear reside a family by the name of Davis.

At the alarm of fire Mrs. Davis picked up her baby and grasped her pocketbook. Opening the pocketbook she extracted the contents consisting of $25 in bills and with the money clasped in one hand and the baby in the other she started across the street to a neighbor's house. In her excitement she lost the money.

Mr. Sable used the attic to store the materials and forms he used in the business. The contents of the attic were destroyed.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy stated that Mr. Sable had informed him he carried some insurance, but could not say if the insurance would cover the loss. Mrs. Davis stated that they carried no insurance on their furniture.

"Honor Slaying" Trial Opens With Clarence Darrow for Defense

Honolulu, April 4 (AP).—With a police guard surrounding the judiciary building to keep away the curious, trial of the most sensational criminal case in the history of Honolulu opened in a little courtroom in that gray stone structure today.

It was from this building that Joseph Kahahawai, young Hawaiian, was lured by a fake court summons January 8. His friends never again saw him alive.

Later the same day his body, shot through the chest, was found shrouded in a sheet in a motor car driven by Mrs. Granville Fortescue, gray-haired eastern society woman and wife of the soldier-author. Also in the car were her son-in-law, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, U. S. N., and E. J. Lord, a naval enlisted man.

These three, with Albert O. Jones, another sailor who was found on guard at the Massie home, faced trial on charges of second degree murder for Kahahawai's lynching.

Hawaiian Abducted.
When the young Hawaiian was abducted he was making his daily report at the judiciary building pending retrial, with four others, on charges of assaulting Mrs. Thalia Massie, attractive 20-year-old wife of the lieutenant and daughter of Mrs. Fortescue.

The full first week of the trial, attorneys said, may be consumed by selection of a jury from panels on which Orientals and islanders may be expected to outnumber the whites. Each side has 24 peremptory challenges.

The trial will be further prolonged by the ruling of Circuit Judge Charles S. Davis limiting sessions to three hours daily in deference to Clarence Darrow, brilliant veteran of many court battles, who heads defense counsel. Judge Davis, presiding, said sessions would be from 9 a. m. to noon (2:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m. Eastern Standard Time).

All Seats Reserved.
The small court-room seats only 75 persons and these seats have been reserved. Judge Davis will permit no one to stand during sessions, nor will he allow the curious to throng corridors of the building. Hence the heavy police guard.

Darrow, who has already asked for "acquittal" as the best present he could receive on the 75th birthday anniversary he expects to spend in the court room two weeks from today, is assisted by an array of less noted lawyers.
Against him is John C. Kelley, an Irishman with a "liking for a fight," handling his first important case as public prosecutor—an office created by special legislative session as a result of demands for reform following the attack on Mrs. Massie, the lynching of Kahahawai, and a series of assaults upon women.

Aiding him is Barry Ulrich, suave and relentless in cross-examination, retained specifically for this case.
The presiding judge describes himself as the "Clarence Darrow of Honolulu." He specialized in defending those in particularly tight places before he became a prosecutor and subsequently ascended to the bench.

To Discuss All Of Europe's Problems

Conference Situation and Lausanne Conference Will Be Considered—
Suspicion Regarding Meeting.

London, April 4 (AP).—It was definitely settled today that the four-power conference which meets here Wednesday will discuss not only means of extending financial aid to the nations of the Danube, but the whole of Europe's difficulties, including reparations, disarmament and war debts.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald made the announcement late last night after a preliminary conversation with Premier Andre Tardieu of France, who came here yesterday and remained for further discussions today.

The conference, at which representatives of France, Germany, Italy and Great Britain will sit in, originally was intended to go into the finances of Austria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Rumania. After the two statesmen had talked for an hour and a quarter yesterday, however, the prime minister announced that the disarmament situation at Geneva and the Lausanne conference on reparations would also be discussed.

This opened the way for consideration of Europe's relations with the United States, including what will happen when the present Hoover moratorium had ended, as well as the future of American war debt payments.

"The intention of the British government," Prime Minister MacDonald said, "is sincere and disinterested in getting the maximum amount of good will and international cooperation brought to bear on the solution of the problems before us. One country cannot do it. The policy we are working out is a policy of cooperation with everybody who is aiming at peace."

A joint declaration of the two premiers was issued to allay a suspicion regarding the meeting, spread in some European countries. It said: "There are no agreements beforehand. There are no drafts or proposals beforehand. We want an agreement which will be consistent with the interstate and well-being of each nation concerned. Our policy is for practical steps to establish and maintain the peace and well-being of Europe and the world."

The conversations began again this morning at 10 o'clock when Premier Tardieu and M. Flandi arrived in Downing street. M. Tardieu spent a half hour conferring with Sir John Simon, after which both went to the prime minister's residence.

The two statesmen began their conversations in the big white and mahogany cabinet-room at No. 10 Downing street.
Tardieu sat at the long cabinet-table beside the prime minister, while Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, Sir John Simon, the foreign secretary, sat in on the discussions. Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade, also was present.

Pierre Flandin, the French finance minister, was with his premier and two French and British experts were at the call of the ministers.

The only interruption of the schedule was an official luncheon at the prime minister's residence.

The presence of Runciman indicated the importance of the tariff problems which the four power conference must tackle in its efforts to blast out the trade barriers of south-eastern Europe.

Too Many Bosses in Russian Auto Plant

Moscow, April 4 (AP).—The gigantic bid of the Soviets to "put every Russian peasant behind a steering wheel" was flattened out today by too many bosses.

Production of cars at the giant $119,000,000 automobile plant at Nizhni-Novgorod, opened with much ceremony three months ago as Russia's challenge to Detroit, has stopped work.

"Too many fingers in the pie" was given as the cause, but the powerful executive committee of the Communist party issued a proclamation demanding drastic reforms in the leadership of the workers at the plant so production may be resumed April 15.

The secretary of the Regional party committee at Nizhni-Novgorod was ordered dismissed. The axe was ordered up also for the plant's foundry and assembly captains. The Regional party committee was told to establish immediately personal responsibility for operation of the plant under one directing head.

It also was ordered to revise the party structure at the plant in the shortest possible time. Operation must be resumed. It was told, in time to complete the program for the first six months of 1932 on schedule.

The plant had been operating under a nominal manager but, as is usual under the Soviet system, his authority was limited and subject to the decisions of the Communist party cell at the factory and the factory committee, which is made up of workers.

"Anti-specialist tendencies" also were given as a contributing factor to the difficulties.

Judge Clearwater Ist To Raise Point Decided By Court

The Supreme Court of the United States has handed down a decision which held unconstitutional and void that part of the revenue law of 1926 which provides that transfers of property within two years before death shall arbitrarily be held to have been made in contemplation of death. Under this decision of the Supreme Court, gifts or transfers made within two years preceding the death of the decedent need not be included in the gross estate of the decedent for the purposes of Federal or State taxation.

The New York newspapers state that the decision will mean a heavy loss under the projected new tax law, in which the estate tax collections would be materially higher.

The decision of the court was in two cases in each of which the opinion of Judge Sutherland held that the presumptive conclusion that the transfers were anticipatory of death, clearly and grossly violated the fifth constitutional amendment of the United States. The attorneys general and tax commission of several states intervened by permission of the court on the argument of the cases which were regarded as involving one of the most important questions of constitutional law presented to that court in a generation.

The State Tax Commission of the State of New York in its brief said that Judge Clearwater was the first lawyer in the United States to raise the point; that the act of Congress violated the constitutional provision above referred to; that he had raised this point in an address before the New York State Bar Association which the State Tax Commission with the judge's permission printed in full with its brief. Judge Sutherland in his opinion sustained the line of argument thus presented by the judge commending its clarity, compression and close reasoning. The cases presented to the Supreme Court involved the estate of John H. Donnan of Pennsylvania and involved approximately $2,500,000. The second case involved the estate of William duPont of Delaware and involved approximately $6,500,000. Both cases were strongly pressed by the attorney general of the United States who claimed with great earnestness that public policy demanded that the presumption be sustained.

Judge Sutherland pointedly states that neither the National Congress or a State Legislature have the constitutional right in any way to infringe upon the rights of a citizen which include the right freely to dispose of his property during his lifetime and that the constitution forbids the imputation of a wrongful intent or of an intent to avoid taxation. On the contrary, if any presumption were authorized, it would be a presumption that the decedent intended a lawful and commendable benefaction. Judge Clearwater has received a number of letters and telegrams congratulating him upon the sustaining of his opinion and the authorizing of its use for presentation to the Court in cases with which he had no connection and did not expect to receive any professional compensation. His correspondents state that it is refreshing to find a busy lawyer willing to devote time and research to the solution of constitutional questions in the determination of which he has not the remotest expectation of profiting.

Judge Clearwater's characterization of the act of Congress was that the presumption created by the act arbitrarily and conclusively excluded consideration of every fact and circumstance tending to show the real motive of the donor in making the gift. Such a disregard, said the judge, of individual right is neither the protective due process of law provided by the Constitution or legitimate taxation. It is purely and simply autocratic spoliation.

ASSAULT TRIAL IN GENESEE COUNTY BEGUN

Buffalo, N. Y., April 4 (AP).—The trial of John Bartz, Genesee county farmer, alleged to have kept his wife dressed for 20 years in a padded leather and canvas harness, beginning here today, is expected to last not more than two days. The case was transferred from Genesee county to the plea of Bartz's lawyer that feeling ran strong against him in his home county, precluding a fair trial. Bartz will be tried on the specific charge of brutally assaulting his wife in February, 1921, a few days before she left their farm house in Townline Road, Batavia, to seek medical attention. She said Bartz attacked her with his fists and beat her into unconsciousness. Six witnesses have been called by the state, including Mrs. Bartz, her 15-year-old daughter, Viola, two State Troopers and two neighbors.

Woman's Body Found Floating In Rondout Creek Near Boatyard

Body of Maude Williams Found in Shallow Water Near Bank of Rondout Creek on Sunday Afternoon—Death Due to Drowning.

Sunday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock Herman Dwyer, watchman at the Hillebrand boat yards at Rondout, found the body of a woman fully clothed lying half submerged in the water of the Rondout creek on a low bank at the lower end of the boat yard.

A call was sent to the sheriff's office and Coroner W. N. Conner was notified and went to the scene and made an investigation.

The body was identified as that of Maude Williams, who for the past 18 or 20 years had been on the barge in charge of WILLIAM STORMS, whose home is at 33 Third avenue, this city. Mrs. Williams has a daughter who resides in New York city. The daughter was communicated with and arrangements were made to have a New York undertaker take charge of the body.

At the time Mr. Storms was ashore and was notified of the finding of the body.

Coroner Conner ordered an autopsy performed by Dr. Krom and Dr. Jacobson. This autopsy failed to reveal any evidence of foul play and death was due to drowning.
The William Storm family of 102 Third avenue stated this morning that it in no way was connected with Sunday's incident concerning the finding of a woman's body at the Hillebrand shipyard.

Plumbers Not On Strike Nor Working

No Agreement Reached on Wage Scale Which Expired First of April Between Master and Journeymen Plumbers in Kingston.

The journeymen plumbers of Kingston are not out on strike, and neither are they working, according to one of the members of the local plumbers' union, and at the present time the plumbers' union is holding conferences with the master plumbers of the city, seeking to get together on a new wage scale.

Three months ago, as required by union rules, the local union submitted to the master plumbers a proposed new wage agreement to go into effect April 1. The new agreement was based on the old wage scale of $10 a day.

The master plumbers when they received the proposed new wage agreement submitted a counter agreement calling for a wage scale of $7 a day.
Until a working agreement is signed the members of the plumbers' union are unable to work at their trade. A member of the plumbers' union said that no strike had been called and that the union was not out on strike.

The status of the journeymen plumbers is that they are not striking, neither are they working.

It is expected that as a result of conferences now being held that a wage scale agreeable to both sides will be adopted.

Campaigning Begun In German Election

Berlin, April 4 (AP).—Three dead, scores wounded and hundreds arrested, was the toll today of the first day of Germany's second presidential election campaign in less than a month. The election is to be held on April 10.

Throughout the country, while Adolf Hitler, National Socialist leader, took the stump again to denounce the government of President Paul von Hindenburg, his "Nazis" forces fought with Communists, Communists fought with "Nazis" and both battled the police and the "Iron Men" of the republic, leaving a trail of death and blood and broken heads.

Hitler began his campaign promptly on the stroke of noon yesterday, ending the political truce ordered by the government for the Easter holidays. He mounted a rostrum at Leipzig before an audience of 50,000 and scored the government for "failing to show any positive achievements in 14 years of existence."

"I will fight to the bitter end," he said. "Whether fate has chosen me to achieve the final victory I leave to the Almighty but my incessant labors to that end entitle me to carry the flag to the finish."

Preceding Hitler on the platform was August Wilhelm, son of the former kaiser, who declared the Nazis were not fighting President von Hindenburg as a man, but the "poltrons who misuse his name for their own nefarious purposes."

Stimson Says Freeing Philippines Would Be An Act of Cowardice

Freeing Philippines Would Cause Loss of American Prestige in Orient Is Opinion of U. S. Secretary of State.

Washington, April 4 (AP).—Representative Bacon (R., N. Y.), today made public a letter Secretary Stimson wrote to Chairman Bingham of the senate territories committee declaring that for the United States to free the Philippines "would be a demonstration of selfish cowardice and timidity on our part," to every foreign eye.

Bacon made public the letter a few minutes after he had prevented the house from taking up under a unanimous consent agreement the Hare bill to grant independence to the islands.

In opposing the move to grant the islands' independence, Secretary Stimson wrote: "It needs no imagination to grasp the effect which such a result would have upon the moral prestige and material influence of the United States in the Far East."

"To every foreign eye it would be a demonstration of selfish cowardice and timidity on our part. No matter under what verbal professions the acts of withdrawal were clothed, to the realist observers of that part of the world it would inevitably assume the aspect of abandonment of the word he had undertaken to protect."

"In the Orient, far more even than in the Occident, prestige is the measuring rod of success. Such a change would be an irreparable blow to American influence."

"Again, our presence in the Philippine Islands has already contributed to the development of a new base of political equilibrium throughout the area of the western Pacific and eastern Asia. At present, or within any definite future, withdrawal of American sovereignty from the Philippines and the termination of American responsibility in and for the islands would profoundly disturb that equilibrium."

"It would inevitably have an unsettling effect in the relation to political thought of the various races, or nations, in the Far East and in relation to the contacts of those races, or nations, among themselves and with the rest of the world."

Pu-Yi Regime Warns Chinese To "Keep Out"

Tokyo, April 4 (AP).—Henry Pu-Yi's new regime in Manchuria intends to order officials of the Chinese government to keep out, the Japanese consul at Changchun reported today to the foreign office here.

First, the Manchukuo government of the young former boy emperor plans to protest the entry of Dr. Wellington Koo, former Chinese foreign minister, into the country with the League of Nations investigating commission when it proceeds there, the consul said, and officials were understood also to be drafting a note to send to Nanking, declaring all Chinese officials are unwelcome.

Dr. Koo is acting as Chinese assessor with the league investigating commission. The cause of the ban, as reported by the consul, is indignation over Nanking's renunciation of the Pu-Yi regime and its refusal to consider Manchuria as anything other than still part of China.

In the meantime, General Sadao Asaki, minister of war, prepared to ask the cabinet tomorrow to authorize sending two army brigades to Manchuria to replace Korean units sent there during the campaign late last year.

This would give Japan a total of five divisions in Manchuria and adjacent Korea, three in Manchuria and two just across the border. There are also several groups of auxiliaries of the Manchurian divisions.

Heavy Wind Damage In Wyoming County

Buffalo, N. Y., April 4 (AP).—A terrific wind storm that destroyed whole orchards, shifted buildings from their foundations and killed livestock, dipped into Wyoming county in the Adirondack neighborhood Saturday night.

A dairy barn was blown down, killing eight cows and a horse and injuring twelve other head of cattle so badly they had to be killed. Near Bennington the enclosed porch was torn from a house, the house was shifted four inches from its foundations, part of the barn was blown in and an orchard of 15 trees destroyed. Some of the articles blown away later were found nearly a mile distant.

In the vicinity of Carversburg, telephone poles were torn down, orchards uprooted and the roofs of a barn and of a school house torn off. Some trees that were uprooted were blown away.

A similar storm occurred four years ago to the day.

Good Qualities Recognized

Only recently has okra been considered suitable for food, yet the southern mammoth discovered long ago that okra, while it may be a scabby relative of milkweed, was not poisonous; that it could be utilized in soups and other forms of food. Likewise it was learned that the dwarfed burdock by proper training, could grow above its shaven family traits and emerge as a plant, highly respected and desirable.

Explorer's Bride To Dare Jungle Dangers; She'll Fly With Husband Over Mayan Ruins

Los Angeles 4P.—Honey-moon trials for Robert B. Stacy-Judd, explorer-architect, and his bride, the former Betty Scofield, fairytale author, will lead them by land and air to the Mayan ruins in the Yucatan jungle.

Previously announced plans for Stacy-Judd's dirigible exploration first into the jungle in search of material on which to base a purely American style of architecture had not included a Mrs. Stacy-Judd.

But Cupid intervened, and instead of the explorer undertaking the expedition single-handed he will be accompanied by his bride.

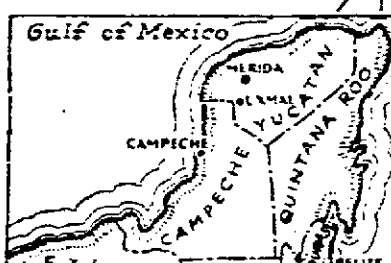

The romance of Stacy-Judd and the former Miss Scofield began in a Mayan atmosphere and ended in a marriage performed a few weeks ago in the first church in the United States to adopt a Mayan motif.

Stacy-Judd was the architect for the First Baptist Church in Ventura, Cal., and moulded into the church building the results of his trip into the Yucatan jungle in 1930.

He met Betty Scofield at a lecture on Mayan civilization. She, an artist as well as a writer, also was interested in developing a new motif for modern art.

The Stacy-Judds plan to establish an air base at Uxmal, but the exploration will extend from Quintana Roo to Campeche. Mrs. Stacy-Judd said she would spend most of her time at Merida, Yucatan.

The couple hopes to start by May 1.

Robert B. Stacy-Judd, explorer-architect, and his bride, the former Betty Scofield, writer, plan a dirigible exploration flight over the Mayan ruins in Yucatan as a sort of "honeymoon trip." They were married recently. Map shows the area they will explore together.

Freighter and Sub-Chaser Collided

San Pedro, Calif., April 4 (AP).—In collision with the passenger carrying English freighter, Japanese Prince, on the high seas off Point San Vicente, the navy sub-chaser No. 34 headed to this port today in tow of the coast guard cutter Tamora.

Radio reports revealed the naval vessel was badly damaged in the crash last night, but was in no apparent danger of sinking.

The Japanese Prince, outbound from San Pedro to Yokohama on a round-the-world trip, was damaged slightly.

Point Vincente is approximately ten miles northwest of San Pedro.

The navy boat was returning from Santa Barbara, from which point it had taken a group of naval reservists on a training cruise, to its base at San Diego.

Ordinarily manned by a crew of 50 men, the sub-chaser had only 24 men aboard when the two vessels came together.

A rolling sea prevented a line being put aboard the sub-chaser for more than two hours and when the towing of the vessel started, the Tamora was forced to proceed at a slow pace since the side of the navy vessel was stove in.

Captain James Morrison, skipper of the Japanese Prince, which carries a crew of 45 and 12 passengers, said he had put lifeboats on the water immediately after the collision.

Two investigations of the accident will be made, one by navy authorities and another by the federal steamboat inspectors.

Dogs and Wolves

All dogs of whatever breed are remotely related to wolves, since the wolf is the ancestral form of the domestic dog. In the German shepherd dogs, popularly called German police dogs, this wolf blood is more apparent than in any other breeds and it is likely that this breed of dog is more directly descended from the wolf.

More Hairy Than Apes

Scientists state that human beings, generally, have more hairs on their heads than some of the apes. The average number of scalp hairs a square centimeter was 312 for man and 307 for thirteen specimens of the large anthropoid apes. Gorillas are less hairy-headed than many men. Two adults had only six and three hairs, respectively. A square centimeter, whereas a man—not a very hairy-headed one at that—had nine. Scalp hair varies in density among the human races, it appears. Six adult negroes averaged 297 hairs a square centimeter and three adult white men had a few more, with an average count of 333.

Fire Badly Damages Connelly Dwelling

The home of Jeremiah Avery on Third street, Connelly, on Sunday night about 5 o'clock was gutted by fire which broke out while Mr. Avery, his daughter, Mrs. Peter Malia, and family were visiting neighbors. Cause of the fire has not been named.

Through the efforts of the Connelly and Port Ewen fire departments, the exterior of the building was saved, also a considerable quantity of household furnishings, but the inside of the home was beyond saving. Fortunately there was no strong wind to fan the flames, which might have spread causing destruction of the village.

Trout Season Began Saturday

The trout season opened Saturday and many local fishermen sought the mountain streams. A few returned with some excellent specimens, while others returned with the old story of having lost a big one. Streams in the mountains were high and the water muddy due to the heavy rains and the melting snow. The Esopus creek below Shandaken was high and swift but several local people reported catches above the Glibbo portal.

Sunday found many fishermen on the streams in spite of the high water and cold wind. There is still considerable snow on the higher peaks but a few days of warm weather will make fishing on the smaller streams excellent.

Four Men Killed In Airplane Crash

Duluth, Minn., April 4 (AP)—Four men on their way to Detroit to compete in the national aircraft show, were killed this morning in an airplane crash 15 miles north of Duluth.

Those killed were Herb Fuller, 35, pilot; S. E. Kervinen, 35, aviator; T. J. Somero, 22, far buyer and part owner of the plane, and his brother, William Somero, 28. They all lived at Ely, Minn.

Fuller flew into a snow storm near the farm house of John Fierem, who heard the plane circle his home three times and then crash. Fuller apparently was blinded by the heavy snow on the windows of the cabin plane.

The plane hit a snow fence, and all four were instantly killed, Fierem reported.

High Prices Dampen Parties in Finland

Helsingfors, Finland, April 4 (AP)—Whisky at $6.50 a bottle and cognac at $9.25 dampened somewhat the widespread celebrations planned for tomorrow, when Finland's 12-year-old prohibition law goes into the discard, in consequence of last December's referendum.

Some restaurants declared they would refuse to handle the newly legalized "hard" liquor because of the high price fixed by the government, which has sole control over the trade under the new law.

Another rift between the government and a number of restaurateurs developed over the margin of profit demanded by the government. The liquor monopoly decreed that it would take 60 per cent of the profits on all sales.

The law provides that a share of the profit be allotted for "temperance purposes," prevention of illegal traffic, and old age and unemployment funds. The rest is set aside for the state treasury, but part of this is to be allocated to the state's "national culture, temperance and benevolent work."

Veterans' Night At Rondout Lodge

A large attendance is expected as this is one night of the year that all the members look forward to with happy anticipations.

Montgomery Ward Co. President Visits City

C. Avery, president of Montgomery Ward & Co., with his party, stopped in Kingston Sunday en route to Chicago and expressed himself as highly gratified not only with conditions at the local store, but with the accommodations and service at the Governor Clinton Hotel, where they had dinner, and with the old Colonial houses and other attractions seen in a trip about the city.

Mr. Avery, who was elected president of Montgomery Ward & Co. about a month ago, was accompanied by S. Roos, his merchandise expert, and P. C. Baker, manager of the company's eastern division.

The party was met by H. A. Tweedie, manager of the local store, and taken to the store on Fair street, where a thorough inspection was made. Mr. Avery was greatly pleased with the display, neatness and general appearance of the Kingston store, which he said was one of the model stores in the entire district. In addition to the fact that it stood third in the district on sales during 1931.

Manager Tweedie, the youngest manager in the entire Montgomery Ward system, was particularly elated at the compliments bestowed by the president of his company upon what he and his assistants have accomplished in putting the Kingston store up among the leaders.

Mr. Avery and party had dinner at the Governor Clinton and expressed surprise at finding a hotel of such size and completeness in a city the size of Kingston. Later in the afternoon Mr. Tweedie took the visitors for a trip about the city and they left early in the evening to continue their journey to Chicago.

Eleven Guardsmen Receive Medals

Eleven members of Battery A, 15th Field Artillery, New York State National Guard, were recently presented with medals for 100 per cent attendance at drills. Presentation was made by Regimental Adjutant Captain Alfred Huddleston, representing Colonel Cassidy of Newburgh, donor of the medals.

The Guardsmen who received medals were Sergeants Harry E. Elm, Roy Houghtaling, James E. Frank, J. Wolnoski, John F. Burr, Privates First Class John J. Bert, Louis Scism, Edwin Van Et-

ten, Peter Mahar and Edmund Whelan. Officers and men of Battery A congratulated the distinguished soldiers.

The new armory at Newburgh being built after the same plans as the one in Kingston, is about 75 per cent complete. It is a good sample of how the local drill shed will look when finished. Not alone is it far superior for artillery purposes, but like the Kingston armory, will furnish better accommodations for social purposes than the old infantry drill hall.

Male Defeats Eagle.
Rock Springs, Wyo. (AP)—An eagle which invaded the Henry Kapper barnyard in quest of a lamb was set upon by two farm dogs who were getting the worst of the battle when the milling trio rolled close to the hind heels of a mule. A kick from the mule knocked the eagle 15 feet and the dogs killed it while it was still dazed.

Cuba (AP).—The salary of the water and street commissioner here was reduced from $2,500 to $1,300 when someone volunteered to do the work at the lower salary. Someone else offered to take the position of village clerk for $200 a year instead of $600, the former salary, so the village clerk found his salary cut in half, but kept his job.

Friendship (AP).—Grant Reynolds, farmer, is one person who believes the old things are best. He bought a mowing machine in 1895 and has cut his hay with it ever since. With the exception of replacing the cutting knives occasionally no other repairs have been necessary.

Social Events To Help Balance Budget Through Levies On Semi-Luxuries

Washington (AP)—Uncle Sam will turn playboy if the new revenue bill becomes a law for he'll be collecting taxes at almost every party and social event in the nation.

Round on the women's cheeks, oil on their escorts' hair, pearls, even if they're only imitation; autos in which the guests arrive, radios to which they dance, beverages served by the hostess and even the mechanical refrigerator in which they're cooled—all are scheduled to help balance the budget by being taxed.

Even the invitations will pay an extra cent of postage if the tax schedule substituted for the manufacturers' sales levies and rushed through the House and passes the Senate and is approved by the President.

Hope to Balance Ledger.

By taxes on semi-luxuries and through other levies the ways and means committee hopes to raise funds needed to make the nation's ledger come out even.

Cosmetics, which include about everything from perfumes to tooth pastes; furs and jewelry are listed to pay a ten per cent tax, radios and refrigerators five per cent, autos three, and beverages varied rates.

If the guests stay for the week-end and play golf, tennis or checkers, take a spin in the host's new motor boat or go fishing up the creek, all the better for the United States treasury.

All sporting goods would pay a ten per cent tax, under the proposed new law, and motor boats would pay five. And if the party stays in town and goes to the theatre tickets over 45 cents would be taxed one cent for every ten cents.

Candy, Gum Taxed.

Even the lazy guests, content to sit on the veranda and eat candy or chew gum, would find themselves contributing a five per cent tax for the pleasure. And the camper, touching a match to his cooking fire or pipe, would pay four cents to Uncle Sam for every 1,000 of them he lights.

The federal treasury will be the unseen winner at every football clash, every baseball classic. If the bill becomes a law, regardless of whether Notre Dame beats Southern California or Connie Mack wins another championship, Uncle Sam would gather in a ten per cent levy on the helmets and chest protectors, balls and bats used by winners and losers alike.

From Stock Market, Too.

Uncle Sam, too, will be one man sure to make money out of the stock market if the revenue bill passes as drawn. Between parties and ball games he would keep an eye on the ticker tape and collect one-fourth of one per cent on every stock sale.

Bond transfers would yield him one-eighth of one per cent. At the produce exchange he would make a nickel every time $100 worth of produce changes hands.

Conveyances—the transfers of titles of ownership—would be taxed 50 cents for every transaction of more than $500 under the provisions of the bill. Capital bond and stock issues would pay ten cents per $100.

Nor would stocks, bonds and deeds lying idle in safety deposit boxes escape their share of the job of balancing the budget. The boxes themselves would be taxed ten per cent, and hoarders who keep their cash there would find themselves taxed in effect for the privilege of hoarding.

BAPTIST WOMEN HELD MISSIONARY MEETING

The regular meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church was held in the church parlors on Friday afternoon, April 1. About 70 of the ladies of the church enjoyed the delicious luncheon prepared under the direction of Mrs. G. C. Lasher and Mrs. H. B. Rich.

Mrs. Parker Wilson of Newburgh, accompanied by Mrs. Decker, sang several solos very pleasantly.

After a brief business session, Miss Lillian Healy gave a biography of John Mason Peck. Mr. Peck was the founder of the Baptist Home Missionary Society whose one-hundredth anniversary the society is celebrating this year. The dramatization, "Living Water," under the direction of Mrs. Harry Klothe and Miss L. M. Healy was very ably given by several of the members. This playlet was a fitting conclusion to the year's study on "Christ Come to the Village," as planned by Miss Lucy J. Healy, chairman of the program committee.

Delicate Vocal Chords

A prominent throat specialist states that there are numerous cases of babies who make sounds like those of a dog barking and the characteristic sharp whine of the seal. But usually, he adds, such phenomena are due to a form of hysteria and are not permanent. Any growth, no matter how slight, on the laryngeal area, or any splitting or paralysis of the vocal cords, immediately alters the tone and pitch of a person's voice. Singers have to exercise the most scrupulous care of the throat, because even a minor injury to the vocal cords seriously impairs the quality of the voice. —Detroit News.

National Revenue

The proportion of public revenue raised by taxation and borrowing varies with the times. In peace time the United States has raised 100 per cent of her revenue by taxes, believing in the theory of paying as you go. During the World war about 75 per cent was raised by loans and 25 per cent by taxation. At one period in the national history—from about 1880 to 1870—considerable revenue was realized from the sale of public lands. The amount so realized now is a small decimal.

Instead of roaring the leopard makes a noise that resembles the sawing of wood.

Birds of a Feather

By JANE GORDON

There was always something peculiar about the atmosphere of O'Grady's store that stood on one of the corners where the state highway crossed the old Main street of the village called North Hill.

There were always plenty of people waiting for the bus, young men who bought cigarettes as an excuse to hang around an hour or more, older men occasionally talking politics, girls sitting at the tables gazing over their shoulders. If you had been a resident of North Hill and had a son you would have taken it for granted probably that he would occasionally join the hangers-on at O'Grady's.

But if you had had a daughter you would have passed on to her the unwritten law that girls didn't hang about O'Grady's. They went there for ice cream, or to buy a paper or candy at a quart of milk. But having made their purchases or eaten their ice cream they left. Even boys who spent some time at O'Grady's were looked upon as idlers and loafers.

It was at O'Grady's that Lois Granger first saw Malcolm Kent. She had gone to buy bird seed and Malcolm was with the loafers leaning against the tobacco counter. Lois cast a glance in that direction just to see who was there and naturally enough noticed Kent. He was a stranger and looked so different from the usual O'Grady frequenter, she assumed that he was waiting for a bus.

But when a day or so later she went to O'Grady's with her little sister to get an ice cream cone and noticed again the tall, rather well-dressed young man loitering there beside the cigarette counter apparently feeling very much at home, she concluded that he had got the O'Grady habit.

"Who is the good-looking stranger that's been hanging around O'Grady's lately?" Lois' uncle asked that evening at supper.

Lois tried to look indifferent, while her older brother informed the family that the loafer was named Malcolm Kent and that he was a cousin or something of the Robinsons who had a big farm out beyond the creek. Tom further announced that he had met the young man, liked him and if there was no family objection, would bring him around to supper.

"He can't be much account," observed Lois' mother, "if he's always hanging around O'Grady's."

"Still, just because he goes there, don't any sign he's like the other O'Grady loafers," Lois said.

"Birds of a feather flock together," pronounced her mother.

"You're right," said the uncle. "By my time I've been in there he was saving the time of his life."

Still it was agreed to permit Tom to bring the young man to supper. And that was where Lois met him.

Malcolm called again two nights later and when he was told that Tom was not at home he asked whether he might see Miss Lois. Yes, he had actually come to see her. He had an idea that Tom wouldn't be home.

Almost every night at supper when Malcolm wasn't present Lois' family spent some time in discussing Mr. Kent. He had said something about having had some sort of a job on a newspaper. But certainly he couldn't be doing any news gathering out here at North Hill. And always Lois' mother would observe that birds of a feather flocked together. It was a matter of common talk that he spent more than half his waking hours at O'Grady's.

Then, one Saturday afternoon, Malcolm and Lois went walking down country lanes in the mellow autumn sunshine, and Malcolm asked Lois to be his wife.

"I think I'd like to, but I don't know how my family will feel about it. They know you aren't working, and you spend so much time at O'Grady's."

"Just because I hang around O'Grady's doesn't mean that I am like other O'Grady habitués, does it?" asked Malcolm with a mystifying smile.

"Only mother says that birds of a feather flock together."

"Well, it happens that the reason why this bird flocks around O'Grady's is because he is of an entirely different feather."

Lois told him, in a rather hurt tone, that she hadn't the least idea what he was talking about. "It seems to me that if you really care enough about me to want to marry me, you wouldn't hang out there all the time—that you'd be making plans to do something some time."

So Malcolm explained, but he made Lois promise not to tell the others until he left. He had written a novel—a damned good novel, too, Malcolm frankly admitted. "But, you see, I've always been something of a book-worm, never spent enough time talking with the kind of birds that stick around O'Grady's. And there are chapters in that book of mine that need the kind of talk you get at O'Grady's. Come out to see the Robinsons one day and happened in at O'Grady's—found it was just the sort of thing I needed—the publishers have accepted the book—that is, when I put in a bit more first-hand work on those chapters. And now I've got my regular job on my paper. Book reviewing, you know—I've been carrying on as usual while I've been away."

And Lois was satisfied.

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S TRAVELS

By James W. Brooks

GADSBY'S Tavern in Alexandria was the scene of many formal and informal gatherings during Washington's happy hours as a farmer at Mount Vernon. Both he and his wife imported sure dignity to these events. Visitors today will find the hall-room floor as highly polished as in the days of yore.

When visiting Alexandria, Washington quartered his mount or coach in the Tavern courtyard. Here, later, occurred the first meeting of Lafayette, Baron de Kalb and John Paul Jones, when the latter offered his services as interpreter in a wordy war between the tavern keeper and Marquis Lafayette. The old courtyard has recently been repaved with brick from the historic streets of Alexandria.

At The Theatres

Today

Kingston: "The Greeks Had a Word for Them." A clever and entertaining story of three gold diggers who know all the tricks of the trade. There are numerous complications and implications that arise before the play is ended, and anyone liking sophisticated drama will thoroughly enjoy this talkie.

One of the greatest reasons for the success of the play is due to the cast. Ina Claire, Madge Evans, and Joan Blondell couldn't be improved upon as the three gold diggers, and Lowell Sherman and David Manners are good as two of the gentlemen who fall under the spell of their charms.

Orpheum: "Girls About Town"

and "A Ridin' Fool." Kay Francis, Lilian Tashman, Joel McCrea, and Eugene Pallette are the featured players in the first picture, a story of girls about town whose duty seems to be keeping the tired business men from being too tired. There are some bright comedy spots in this show. "Ridin' Fool" offers Bob Steele in another western story.

Broadway: "False Magdona" and "Seven Acts of Paramount Vaudeville" on the stage. The talkie is unusual melodrama, with Kay Francis playing the part of a woman who poses as the mother of a rich, blind boy, in order to swindle him out of his money. The boy's complete helplessness makes her repent her actions, and she wonders which way to turn. There is no comedy in this play, but it is well acted, and human. Kay Francis, William Boyd, and Conway Tearle are in the cast, but John Breiden, a newcomer to the screen, steals the show in the role of the helpless and lovable blind boy. The stage show offers "Belsky, the Iron Man." Jack McCluskey and Co. with Marion Wallace, "Farrell and Florence," "Jack Joyce and Joen," and three other Paramount stage acts.

Ritz: "Hell Divers." Acclaimed by critics everywhere as an unusually fine picture in acting, plot, entertainment, and direction, this whirlwind story of the United States Naval Air Force, and what they do during peacetime, proves to be thrilling, grade A entertainment from the first flick of the camera to the last. There are some exceptional air scenes that will leave any audience breathless, there is a corking good plot, and a fine cast that includes Wallace Beery, Clark Gable, Dorothy Jordan, Conrad Nagel, Marjorie Rambeau, and Marie Prevost. The help of the Naval Air Forces makes this picture the more realistic, and the work of Beery and Gable as friendly enemies lends spice to an already entertaining picture. The most interesting and thrilling part of the play comes when one man sacrifices his life that his pals may live. Swell entertainment.

Protect Upholstered Furniture At Home Cleaning Time

When you put your clothes away for a season you are careful to protect them from moths. Upholstered furniture deserves special protection at this time. Adult moths harm neither furniture nor clothing, but the moth larvae which they deposit soon hatch into moth worms which attack the fabric. If slip covers are put over upholsters without first protecting the fabric, the danger of moth hole is even greater. The simplest method of protecting your furniture is to spray it with SENEX. SENEX dissolves moth eggs which may have been deposited. Since SENEX is non-staining, it can be sprayed directly upon the fabric. Your dealer can supply you with SENEX in convenient half-pint, pint and quart cans.—Adv.

There are more boats tied up in the creek now than has ever been known before according to local boatmen. The tug of the Cornish Steamboat Company are being idle by their docks just below the ferry slip. The boats look spruce and span after being painted and reconditioned during the idle winter days.

A Card Party
The Junior Good Will Club will hold a card party at Odd Fellows Hall, Broadway and Brewster street, Tuesday evening, April 5. The public is invited.

Fly Far for Food

A LARVA OF ANTS THAT WANTS WILL fly as far as 25 miles to obtain food for herself and brood.

In past years the creek was mired many times by this time that would be engaged in river tows, but the absence of business affects the shipment of goods. The "Perserverance", the largest tug of the Cornell line, has been idle for months at the docks in Rhinecliff.

Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York, in his Report to the State Legislature for 1931, makes the following comments upon Savings and Loan Associations.

“At the end of each dividend period 5 per cent of net earnings is set aside as a Guaranty Fund until the amount of such fund equals 5 per cent of the accumulated capital, or 50 per cent of the book value of the real estate owned. When the Guaranty Fund and undivided profits, constituting the surplus of the association, amount to 15 per cent of the amount due shareholders, all Net Earnings accrue as dividends to the shareholders. In other words, the shareholders of a savings and loan association are co-owners of all the assets of the association and are entitled to receive their pro rata shares of the net earnings after all expenses are paid.

INSTALMENT SHARES have full participation in all dividends that may be declared, and upon which regular stipulated payments of dues are made at stated periods as expressed in the By-Laws. INCOME SHARES are issued to members desiring fixed investments upon which dividends are apportioned in cash.

With the return of prosperity, growth of the home owning idea, ease of access and spread of modern conveniences to suburban communities and greater knowledge by the masses of the services rendered and opportunities offered by use of savings and loan associations, a great impetus in future growth can be anticipated for this very useful class of institution.

The fact that the Savings and Loan Associations show an increase in Resources for the year 1931 is an indication of confidence on the part of the membership, and is evidence of the usefulness and stability of this class of institution. *****

THE EXPENSE OF OPERATION of the savings and loan associations for the past year, including salaries and excluding interest on borrowed money, was $3,529,287 which is LESS THAN 1 PER CENT of accumulated capital.

SPORT SLANTS

By Alan J. Gould

(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

Ball players' names are not subject to as much imagination and variation as the stars or screen invites, but they do become jumbled in the process of newspaper circulation. "Joe" Miller's name is really John, but he can't seem to shake off the mistake.

The Yankees' new recruit second baseman came up tagged as "Jack" Saltschewer and probably will continue to carry the label, but his real name is Otto Hamilton Saltschewer.

Old Jack Quinn was born John Pious, but it's too late to do anything about it now.

For years the boys have misspelled the nickname of the Irishman who directs the Red Sox, John F. Collins. It is neither "Shano" nor "Shano," but, he tells me, it should be "Shano," which is nothing else than the good old Irish equivalent for John. He objects to any other way of spelling it.

"X" Marks The Spot

It was a long time before the line-drawers consented to put the extra "x" in Jimmie Fox. Another member of the Athletics, Eddie Rummel, the knuckleball pitcher, generally sees an additional "x" attached erroneously to the end of his name.

Long though he figured in the major league spotlight relatively few folks know that Rummel's first name was "Edd," which is probably of Welsh extraction, and not anything so ordinary as Edward.

Years ago things became so annoying for a Cleveland infielder named Wambegans that he officially agreed to accept the abbreviated label of "Wamby." For years he lost identity in the box scores under a combination of letters something like this: "Wmbjs."

Faith In Rooter
The Red Sox, for emergencies around first base and in event of possible open field warfare, have fortified themselves with a youth considered to be among the best soccer football goalies in the country.

His name is Johnny Rooter. He is 22 years old, from Fall River, Mass., and making his debut in professional baseball in the Sox training camp at Savannah.

He attracted attention first as a pitcher, performing in school and semi-pro ranks around New England, but Manager John (Shano) Collins quickly found out he could play first base and assigned him to the "Yanigans."

A six-footer, weighing 182 pounds, Rooter looks the part of a natural athlete. He was born in Poland, but was brought to the United States when barely a year old and has grown up from youth in baseball, even though his reputation so far has been made chiefly on the soccer fields of the East.

The crack Bethlehem team offered Rooter a professional contract after he became an amateur star with the Fall River soccer team.

He prefers baseball now, remarking: "You are not so likely to get kicked in the ribs when you are down."

Local Rifle Club Issued Charter

Washington, D. C.—The St. John's Rifle Club, of Kingston, N. Y., has been issued a charter by the National Rifle Association, according to an announcement made today at the headquarters of the association here.

The officers of the new club are: Clarence Herdman, 20 Derrenbacher street, president; William Bushnell, 123 South Manor avenue, vice-president; Arthur Frigo, 74 Elmendorf street, secretary; Frederic Holcomb, 188 Fair street, treasurer, and Robert Read, 135 Ten Broeck avenue, executive officer. The instructor of the club is Richard J. Cole, 142 St. James street.

The club is one of about 2,800 active rifle shooting clubs affiliated with the National Rifle Association.

Elephant Reproduction
Very little is known about the breeding of elephants, as only a few have been bred in captivity. At Copenhagen, one elephant has had three or four calves in many years. The period of gestation is about 22 months. They begin breeding at thirty years and continue until they are ninety years old.

Gun Club Heard Plans at Dinner

In order to decide the much discussed question as to who was the better shot in his individual class, a contest was started last winter by members of the Ulster County Gun Club. Members who considered they were about equal in breaking birds challenged other members to shoot several strings and the winners were to receive a dinner from the losers.

That interesting contest has been concluded and on Saturday night the winners enjoyed a steak dinner at the Kingston Hotel on Crown street, the dinner being tendered by the losers.

Since several of the scores were very close no mention will be made as to who was seated with the losers. All enjoyed the dinner served by Henry Millonig and after the meal had been disposed of Field Captain Roswell Coles called the meeting to order and presented Roy Longendyke who offered a novel idea to create interest in the weekly snoots of the gun club.

Although several of the gunners are most enthusiastic at the traps during the late fall and winter they somehow lose interest in the spring about April first, particularly after the first Saturday of April. The reason being that the rod and reel has begun its spring call to the mountain streams. The plan advanced by Mr. Longendyke was so appealing that several of the trout fishermen decided that perhaps they might be able to call off their trout fishing long enough to enter the contest, and attempt to become a "big shot."

The plan advanced by Mr. Longendyke was to create a "Big Shot Club" which would create interest as well as supply humor to the affair. His plan is to have a contest in which members shoot 10 strings of 25 birds between now and July first. The records made will be compared with the present averages of the members and the man with the greatest increase in average will become a "big shot."

Not only will a "big shot" become an important personage among his fellow members, but he will be a life member of the club. No ordinary member of the club will precede a "big shot" on or off the shooting platform and when a "big shot" appears at the traps it will become the duty of the other members to tip their hat to the "big shot" and in other ways bow to his superior being. This will create interest and amusement in the club and in the event a member fails to show due respect to a "big shot" he will be fined the small sum of a few cents.

Mr. Longendyke explained that from time to time various contests may be held to create other "big shots," but in order to become one a member would have to do something unusual in shooting or as a service to the club.

The idea was enthusiastically received and plans will be worked out for its adoption.

Another plan advanced by Mr. Coles to create interest in shooting was the payment of a $2.50 prize to be given by the club to the member making the best score at the regular shoot of the club when ten or more members were present. In order to create interest and give all members an equal chance, both the high average men and the low average men, the Shoegrin system and yardage plan will be adopted. The first string will be shot at the usual 16 yard distance. The number of birds broken in the first string will establish the yardage from which the second string will be shot and by a system of calculations and handicaps figures the poorer shooters will have an equal chance with the best shooters to win the prize. This idea met with such speedy response that it was also determined to have an open sweepstake even when less than 10 members were present, the members present to make up the prize instead of the club putting up the prize as would be done when 10 or more were shooting.

The added yardage handicap has been tried at the club and several members find it very interesting. In addition to pleasures the club also entered into serious discussion over the proposed federal tax on shells which it is planned to impose. A tax of one cent per shell is proposed. The club decided to write to the local congressman and senator and protest against this tax on shells used for target practice.

Charles Finch announced that on April 20 a fly and bait casting exhibition would be held at the local armory and that all sportsmen would be invited. No admission charge would be made and two experts would be present to demonstrate and instruct and show trick casts.

A very satisfactory meal having been disposed of at the expense of the losers in the recent contest, the winners extended their thanks to their sportsmen-like brothers and the meeting then adjourned.

News from Major Training Camps

Louisville, Ky., April 4 (AP).—The New York Yankees have just about given up the job of trying to figure out what this fellow Larn Lary will do next.

Larn was hopelessly stationed at third base at the start of the training season and instead of taking the usual time to get acquainted with his position he immediately began to look like a star at the hot corner. When his hitting began to slump he was dropped to eighth place in the batting order and he replied to that change yesterday by slamming out two doubles and a triple in the Yanks' slugfest against Memphis, scoring four runs and batting in two more.

Giants Win 20 Games
San Francisco, April 4 (AP).—The New York Giants were on the way back east today, their spring training season ended. Their next stop is at Kansas City, where they are to meet the Detroit Tigers Wednesday. In their exhibitions on the coast the Giants won 20 games and lost only eight, closing the program with a double victory yesterday. They turned in nine victories over the other major league clubs training in California against four defeats.

Vance Stops Indians, 3-2
New Orleans, La., April 4 (AP).—Dazzy Vance of the Brooklyn Dodgers stopped the Cleveland Indians dead for four innings yesterday, but the tribe won the game from his successor, Babe Phelps, 3 to 2. Vance got seven strike-outs. Wesley Ferrell went the full route for the Indians and was effective in the pinches. It was the last game scheduled for the Indians in their training camp. They probably will start north Thursday to play the Reds at Cincinnati over the week-end.

Hopes To Push Wisconsin On

After two years at Oregon, Clarence W. "Doc" Spears is returning to the Big Ten to coach the Wisconsin grid team. The school wanted a coach with a "national reputation." Spears made one turning out previous seasons at Minnesota, and on the west coast where his Oregon teams won 14 out of 19 games.

Shotton Sees Stronger Club

Manager Burt Shotton of the Phillies can't see his club as a "push-over" with players like Chuck Klein and Ray Benge around. The hard-hitting Chuck is shown caught trying to stretch a drive into a triple during practice. At Todd, rookie catcher, is the guy applying the leather. Benge is getting ready for a busy season. He won 14 and lost 18 last year.

VETERAN BUREAU IS GROWING RAPIDLY

Billion a Year Concern, With Costs Mounting.

Washington.—Increased agitation for the passage of legislation permitting World War veterans to borrow the remaining 50 per cent of the value of their bonus insurance certificates served to focus attention on the tremendous growth in recent years of the funds expended by the war veterans' administration.

Testimony delivered before the house appropriations committee by Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans' affairs, disclosed that the veterans' administration is now a billion dollars a year concern with expenditures still growing. His figures revealed that in 1931 the veterans' administrator expected to expend in excess of a billion dollars on administration of veterans' matters, payments to beneficiaries, on adjusted compensation certificates, hospitalization and other activities.

During the past twelve years the independent establishment handling veterans' matters has expanded by leaps and bounds until today it is estimated it will take 40,000 civilian employees to care for the interests of the hundreds of thousands of veterans now receiving aid from the government in one form or another. During the next fiscal year this department will utilize facilities at more than 300 hospitals and furnish beds for in excess of 63,000 patients.

Build New Hospitals.
With the approximately billion dollar appropriation, which it now seems assured of receiving, new hospitals will be built, new beds provided, approximately a million veterans given treatment of some kind, or funds for some particular reason, loans made to other veterans on bonus certificates, compensation paid to disabled veterans and salaries paid to the army of employees.

In event legislation is passed permitting the veterans to cash the full value of their compensation certificates another two billion dollars would be added to the sum which the veterans' administration would handle in the next few years.

The big items in the veterans' administration bill as requested for 1933 by General Hines follow:

Administration, medical, hospital and domiciliary services, $116,000,000.

Army and navy pensions, $225,000,000.

Adjusted service certificate fund, $150,000,000.

Military and naval service, $110,000,000.

In his budget message President Hoover asked $1,000,309,000 for veterans' administration affairs, approximately one-fourth of the entire federal budget.

Of this sum $150,000,000 was for use in making loans to veterans on their bonus certificates. The house appropriations committee cut this figure to $94,237,735. Virtually no cut was made at all inasmuch as the $50,000,000 reduction was effected by cutting down the figure for bonus payments with the definite understanding General Hines can go to congress to get this sum, if it is needed, in a deficiency bill next December.

322 Hospitals Utilized.
As of December 31, 1931, 42,225 veterans whose hospitalization was authorized by the veterans' administration were receiving treatment. Three hundred and twenty-two hospitals were utilized: 64 by the administration itself, 216 belonging to state and civil institutions, 17 to the public health service; 16 to the United States navy, 1 to the United States army, and 2 to the Department of the Interior.

On December 21, 1931, the veterans' administration was afforded domiciliary care for 17,210 additional veterans. During the 1931 year the department treated 850,469 out patients and gave 2,148,432 physical examinations.

As of December 31, 1931, 318,114 veterans were receiving compensation for disability incurred in, resulting from, or aggravated by military service during the World War. Compensation was also being paid to the dependents of 87,543 veterans whose death occurred in, or resulted from service in the World War. The amount of compensation payments, depending upon the degree of disability, ranges from $8 per month for a temporary partial condition to $200 per month for what is known as a double permanent and total disability.

General Hines said the number of active awards for disability compensation has increased by 135,024 since June 20, 1923.

A big increase in the number of those receiving benefits for disability resulting from other than military and naval service was recorded last year.
